Mardi Gras fever strikes Coast

Secret women's organization

Parade of Krewe of Nereids attracts throng to Waveland

Crowds estimated as high as 15,000 visited the City of Waveland on Sunday for the first Mardi Gras parade of 1978.

The 12th annual Nereids parade rolled under a fine, blue sky with temperatures, though a little chilly, failing to freeze the throng's enthusiasm.

Following on the heels of Nereids were the Krewe of Eros, Krewe of US, Krewe of Apollo, and the horses.

More than 70 entries participated in the event, which officially stopped twice.

One halt was made at the official Nereids stand, where Queen Nereids XII toasted her king, Nereus XII, Clifford P. Vogt, and the second at the City of Waveland's viewing stand where Mayor John Longo delivered the keys of the city to the vivacious queen.

Dukes to the maids were: W.J. Bourgeois, Jr., Larry C. Breland, Donald A. Caserta, Donald M. Favre, Gerald C. Gex, and G. Lynn McGehee. Grand Marshall was Greg Fox of WDSU TV, New Orleans.

Nereids is a secret women's organization which never reveals the identity of its royalty, captain, maids, or membership.

Winners of the various categories were:

—senior band, St. Martin, 1, Bay High School, 2, St. Stanislaus, 3; junior high band, St. Martin, 1, North Bay

Kings of land and sea to meet at Diamondhead

King Ali'i Houna III, HRH Bob Pflugfelder, and his queen, Her Highness Mary Hoppert, will firmly rule over the land parade on Saturday at Diamondhead.

To start at 2 p.m. at the Country Club, the parade will wind its way down to the Yacht Club, arriving there about 3 p.m., shortly before the arrival of the sea parade and its ruler, King Akua Kai, III, Ed Snow, and his queen, HRH Mary Hoppert.

The courts will meet on the front steps of the yacht club after royalty disembarks.

Both parades are open to the public, according to Evelyn McPhail, parade captain.

Ms. McPhail said the best viewing point for the land parade is that area immediately adjacent to the Interstate 10 between the main access gate to Diamondhead and the Yacht Club.

The land parade is made up of decorated golf carts, walking groups, horses and riders, bands and amateur floats.

As with viewing, the public is invited to participate in the parade, but no professionally decorated floats are eligible.

Persons wishing to make entry are asked to contact Ms. McPhail at 255-1421 (Extension 250).

"We are not firm on entries, and persons should consider any original ideas for this parade."

One year we even had a freshly painted white garbage truck covered in big daisies as a float.

Judges will select winners in nine categories: best float, best boat, best walking group, best mounted group, best costume, best golf cart, best organization entry, best overall entry.

The boat parade will enter the yacht club bayou from the Jordan River to arrive at 3 p.m.

Best viewing spot (and for catching throws) is on the bayou bank, immediately to the west of the yacht club where water depths permit vessels to be maneuvered close inshore.

The courts will again meet that night in the Country Club at a private event which includes both presentation of royalty and retinue, and an 'in house' Diamondhead party.

Parade Captain McPhail said that in Hawaiian, Akua Kai means god of the sea, and Ali'i Houna means ruler of the land.

Senate Oil and Gas Committee ok's school bill

By ELLIS CUEVAS

State Senator Martin Smith of Poplarville, reported Tuesday the Senate Oil and Gas Committee has given a favorable vote on a bill to return $173,636.93 to the Hancock County School System.

The bill, first introduced to the Ways and Means Committee of the House by Hancock County Representative J. P. Compretta, calls for the return of oil and gas lease monies received by the state for 16th Section wet lands leases in Hancock County.

The bill now facing a full senate is still before the Ways and Means Committee in the House.

Last October the Gulf Coast Regional School Boards Association passed a resolution endorsing the payment of lease payments received by the state from oil leases on 16th section lands back to the respective school districts. State Land Commissioner John L. Ainsworth outlined the state's position on the controversial numeral leasing of wetlands when speaking to the association.

He said some noise would have to be made to get passage of the Compretta bill or its chances were zero.

When the state placed the wet lands

Krewe of Triton to roll down 90 on Carnival Day

The king's identity remains a secret through to that morning, when the krewe is told. The king's name is never officially announced but as Triton is not masked, he makes himself known to the public during the parade.

The krewe is composed of business men of Waveland, Bay St. Louis, and Hancock County proper, and the parade attracts entries from throughout the area.

Everyone has been invited by Captain of Krewe to participate in the Mardi Gras festivities by coming costumed. Judging of costumes will take place between 1:30 and 1:45 p.m., at the Triton Reviewing Stand, in the Bay Waveland Auto Parts lot on US-90. Judging categories will be: best single (TRITON - Page 4A)

by EDGAR PEREZ
Juvenile offenses in Waveland during 1977 prompted 28 percent of the total arrests made by the city's police department throughout the year.

In a year-end report, Chief Donald Dorn said of a total of 275 arrests, 76

Narcotics violations headed the list in numbers arrested, both adult and juvenile, with 35. Department statistician Sandra Henley said the violations consisted primarily of possession of marijuana.

Dorn said 37 percent of the narcotics violators were juveniles.

No juveniles were involved in the total of 52 arrests for driving under the influence and driving while intoxicated, however.

But of 27 persons charged with public

Seven hopefuls certified in assessor primary race

by EDGAR PEREZ
The Hancock County Board of Election Commissioners this week certified seven candidates in the Democratic first primary special election Saturday, Feb. 11, to fill the position of county assessor-tax collector.

The post is currently held by Mrs. George Heitzmann, appointed by the Board of Supervisors to temporarily replace her husband who retired Dec. 31.

Qualifying deadline for candidates was 5 p.m. Wednesday, according to Hancock County Circuit Court Clerk Henry Otis who also serves as registrar of voters.

Some 13,683 Hancock County residents are eligible to vote in the forthcoming primary election, Otis reported.

Should none of the seven candidates secure a clear majority of the primary votes, Otis said, a second primary runoff will be held Saturday, Feb. 25.

Otis said the election commissioners met Monday night to verify the petition signatures of 50 eligible voters each candidate was required to submit with his qualification papers.

The commissioners had planned to meet again Wednesday night to verify the qualifications of any last minute entries, but none appeared, Otis reported.

School Board President Woodrow Ladner, who said he had considered running, reported Wednesday he decided against the idea.

"The voters elected me to this school board position a little more than a year ago, and I decided there is still a lot I can do for the children of the county," said Ladner who would have had to relinquish the school board post if elected assessor-tax collector.

Otis listed the qualifying candidates in alphabetical order as their names will appear on the ballot. They are:

Burton D. (Fip) Johnson, 110 North Second St., Bay St. Louis; James A. (Jim) Ladner, Ansley; Yvonne Ladner, Standard Community; Howard Lizana, Standard Community; Clarence V. Lee, Bienville section of the Flat Top Community; Edward D.

(Eddie) Murtagh Jr., 103 Necaise St., Bay St. Louis; and Ray Pennington, 1923 Nicholson Ave., Waveland.

Johnson is chief building inspector for the City of Bay St. Louis and a former Hancock County Sheriff-Tax Collector. He is a member of the Mississippi State Building Inspectors Association.

Jim Ladner is a Bayou LaCrosse native, graduate of Kiln High School, and nephew of former assessor Claiborne Ladner. He is currently a pipefitter for Halter Marine Service of New Orleans.

Yvonne Ladner of White Cypress has been the county's chief deputy tax collector since 1971. She has worked in the financial departments of General Electric's NASA-NSTL installation and William B. Rely Coffee Co. of New Orleans. She is a graduate of Sellers High School and Spencer Business College, New Orleans.

Howard Lizana has been a Picayune barber for the past 13 years and is also currently an employee of the Irvin Lacoste Construction Company. He is a graduate of Kiln High School and the barbers vocational school of Hinds

Junior College.

Clarence V. Lee of the Bienville Community is a graduate of the old Kiln High School and a New Orleans vocational college. He served as head cashier for the Southern Pacific Railroad and has been a Waveland barber for the past ten years. He is currently enrolled in a Pearl River Junior College home study program on tax assessment-collection and millage.

Edward D. (Eddie) Murtagh Jr. currently serves as the chief deputy tax collector for Hancock County. He is a native and resident of Bay St. Louis and a graduate of St. Stanislaus College.

Ray Pennington is a control clerk for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and a tax consultant for H & R Block Company. He is a former purchasing agent for Sun Airlines and currently a member of the board of directors of the L&N Employees Federal Credit Union. He is a graduate of Bay High School and computer science major of Jeff Davis Junior College and Louisiana Technical Institute.

BREATHING ROOM-Waveland Assessor-Tax Collector Claire Bourgeois is all smiles in her newly-expanded offices on the first floor of the City Hall. Ms. Bourgeois' department expanded its working space into the areas formerly occupied by City Clerk Barbara Rappold who, along with her staff, has moved into new offices upstairs on the Hall's second floor. Area students compete for international camp

A total of 18 eleven-year-old residents of the western Mississippi Gulf Coast have been nominated to attend the 1978 Children's International Summer Village in Sweden.

The Summer Village program, founded 25-years ago by University of Cincinnati child psychology professor Dr. Doris Twissell, brings 11-year-old children from various parts of the world together for a month of camping.

Elementary and middle schools on the Mississippi Gulf Coast have participated for the past 16 years in the program designed to promote a world awareness among the campers through a multinational, cooperative living experience.

"Eleven-year-olds are chosen because they are at an age when language differences are no barrier to the boyant enthusiasm they express at work and play," according to Mrs. Carole Courtney, president of the Gulf Coast chapter of the program.

"They adjust happily away from home, are old enough to represent their countries to other children, and are able to appreciate the international experience well enough to communicate it to friends and relatives upon returning home," Mrs. Courtney said.

Two boys and two girls will be chosen from the Gulf Coast area nominees to attend this year's village in Sweden. Nominees are chosen by area schools. They are: Maria Anne Benvenutti, Bay St. Louis, Bay Catholic Elementary School; Courtney Egan, Pearlinton, Christ Episcopal Day School;

Stephanie Power and David Reynaud, both of Bay St. Louis and North Bay Elementary School; and Mark Wheeler, Waveland, Christ Episcopal Day School.

Also, Roslyn Elizabeth Webb and Alan David Dedeaux, both of Pass Christian Middle School; and Matthew Joseph Scardino and Stephanie Ann Simpson, both of St. Paul's Catholic School, Pass Christian.

And, Christopher Lance Strahan and Cynthia Beth Krol, both of Quarles Elementary School, Dong Beach; and Aimee Marie Grenillion and Rodney L.

Sandoz II, both of St. Thomas Catholic School, Long Beach. As well as, Owen C. Hines Jr. and Terri Rene Joffrion, both of Jeff Davis Elementary, Long Beach; and Amy Katherine Dillworth and Jeffery Zebney, both of Green Acres Elementary, Long Beach.

Nominated by the Summer Village Gulf coast chapter to be an adult delegate to the 1978 program is Ms. Donna (Lynn) Foster, Pass Christian.

Junior counselor nominees include Delon Marie Toreson, Pass Christian, and Jackie Lynne Moore, Long Beach.

Safety poster contest

Ten beautifully designed and colored safety posters my soon hang in many schoolrooms in Hancock County.

Teachers use the set of decorative and message-bearing displays to impress upon students the importance of safety on bicycles, in automobiles, while walking, eligible for N.O.

Hancock growers

flower show entry

Mississippi growers are eligible to enter the 38th annual show of the Camellia Club of New Orleans Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 11-12, at Lakeside Shopping Center, Metairie, La.

Flowers from Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Texas and Tennessee are expected to be shown in the exhibit which is open to the public from 4 to 9 p.m. Saturday and 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Entries in the horticulture division will be received at the shopping center from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday, Feb. 11. There is no entry fee required, according to Breezie A. Ragusa of Metairie, general show chairman.

Garden clubs of the greater New Orleans area will display more than 40 camellia arrangements, Ragusa said. He noted some 200 varieties of camellias are to be exhibited, some not previously shown in the area.

Flowers grown outdoors will be judged separately from those grown protected.

Silver trophies will be presented to 55 winners in the horticulture and arrangements divisions, Ragusa said.

and while playing near streets.

The posters are not done by professionals - they were created, designed and colored by school children from the United States who last year participated in and won top prizes in AAA's annual School Safety Poster Contest. The 10 best in the nation are reproduced for distribution to thousands of classrooms.

The contest, currently being conducted in Louisiana and Mississippi by the Central Gulf Division, AAA, is open to students ages 6 to 21 years. Principals and teachers have been asked to encourage their students to participate. Savings bonds are to be awarded to state and national winners. Deadline for turning in entries is Feb. 21.

Joe Puglia, public affairs director of AAA's Central Gulf Division, said, "This is an important school project. Kids are encouraged to work on this project because it makes them think safety. The 34th annual contest is already drawing a lot of entries, but it would be nice if all schools in the area could be represented."

Puglia has urged parents to see if their children are participating, and if no, ask them or their teachers to obtain information on the contest. Additional information and entry blanks are available by writing to Joe Puglia, AAA, 3445 N. Causeway Blvd., Metairie, La. 70002 for Louisiana, or Hank Downey, AAA Mississippi Region, P.O. Box 1506, Jackson, Miss. 39204 for Mississippi.

The topics in Louisiana are: keep from parked cars; bicyclists - ride right with traffic; caution - school bus stopping means children crossing, and see and be seen.

In Mississippi topics are: look all ways before crossing; play away from traffic; be bright at night, and signal your intentions. Different age groups participate in the various categories.

Judging of the entries will be in February. Local winners will be determined and all posters will be sent to AAA national headquarters for a nationwide contest.

School teachers or principals seeking information may also contact the nearest AAA office.

Last year in the Central Gulf Division some 20 youngsters received savings bonds for their efforts.

Opinion/Ellis Cuevas

Don't get "carried away"

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Mardi Gras is a time of fun for everyone, families, young people as well as old. Sometimes people do things that violate the spirit of the occasion.

Sunday was a wonderful day for the Krewe of Nereids, they had beautiful weather for their parade and a beautiful crowd turned out to see it pass.

The entire Krewe of Nereids are to be commended for a spectacular, free show. Eros, marching groups, bands, floats and individuals should be recognized for their contributions.

There were at least eight persons that didn't fair out too well. Five of them were arrested for driving while intoxicated, two for fighting, and one for seeking to solve the problems brought about through the lack of restrooms.

The five arrested for DWI could have very easily killed someone in the largest crowd in Waveland for the entire year. The two who were arrested for fighting could have possibly hurt each other. The person trying to solve the personal problem brought about by lack of restroom facilities was put in an embarrassing situation, and one that could have happened to anyone at the parade.

We can remember an incident about two years ago when a Mardi Gras reveler had a tragic accident on I-10 after a party.

With many more Mardi Gras festivities still on tap for us, we hope that everyone will be sensible, and if a little too much is drunk, get someone else to give them a lift home.

We are told that local police will continue to be as tough on DWI as they have to be.

Some of us have to work on Mardi Gras day, along with police, hospitals, restaurants and others. Not everyone gets to see the parades. Everyone would like to be off to enjoy the parades, so let us all cooperate with police and make the rest of Mardi Gras a fun time for everyone.

Some of the Mardi Gras festivities include the Diamondhead parade Saturday, Pass Christian parade Sunday, and Triton's parade Tuesday on U.S. 90 through Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

We noted on Sunday how slow the long L&N freight passed when moving parallel to Nereids. The engineer used very good judgment by cutting speed.

We have and others have criticized the L&N at times, and we feel that at this time they should be congratulated on using over caution.

Happy Mardi Gras!

Ground hogs due to check shadow today

by JOE PILET

Americanism & DAR
Manual for Citizenship

Traditionally February 2 is observed in America as "Ground Hog Day". The old custom came to America via the people of Great Britain and Germany. This was their method for reckoning weather for the next six weeks. Legend has it that the woodchuck (ground hog) always awakens from his long winter sleep, pokes his head out of his home in the ground and looks about him to see whether or not the sun is shining. If the ground hog sees his shadow he is frightened, and goes back into his hole because he knows there will be six more weeks of wintry weather. If the day is overcast then, of course, there will be no shadow and spring weather is on the way.

Those who plant crops have always waited until "danger of frost" has passed, however, they no longer depend on the revelations of the ground hog, rather they consult their favorite news media, the press, radio and television.

Customs and traditions are deep-rooted. Most calendars still mark Feb. 2 as Ground Hog Day. Most people still look anxiously from their windows on Feb. 2 and hope fervently for a cloudy day!

Man of Iron is title of Carver story

Former Mayor Warren Carver is preparing the story of his father, Andrew Carver, and his blacksmith shop for inclusion in the May 28 Heritage Edition.

"My father had a forge right where we are now living," Carver recalled, "and he was a true artist when working with iron."

Contributions to the edition are welcome. Further information is available from 467-5551.

STATE SENATOR MARTIN SMITH fields questions during session this week in Jackson. Smith, vice chairman of the Special Joint Legislative Committee on Reapportionment, was in part responsible for formulation of two reapportionment plans, subsequently approved by the legislature and forwarded to the federal courts. ETV's panel show "Quorum", to be aired at 7 p.m., tonight on Channel 29, will feature Smith, Representative Tommy Campbell, Yazoo City, chairman, Special Joint Legislative Committee on Reapportionment; Senator Bill Burgin, Columbus, and Representative Gerald Blessy, Biloxi, both members of the special committee.

Revenue sharing...

Sharing, Washington, D.C.

Schiff also stressed this point during a seminar sponsored by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Center for governmental technology the following day.

"Citizens must have an opportunity to become involved in the budgeting of general revenue sharing funds," explained Schiff. "For this involvement to be possible, local officials must be innovative to attract citizens' attention."

The public participation requirements for general revenue sharing include three basic sections: two hearings; four public notices and a final report.

"During the proposed use hearing, the legislative body which draws up the budget must have a hearing concerning what it wants to do with the funds and what impact revenue sharing has on the community."

"The second hearing concerns the proposed general revenue sharing budget."

"In an effort to increase citizen participation, four public notices are required during the process: before the proposed use hearing; before the budget hearing; after the summary of the adopted budget has been prepared; and following the actual use report preparation. The last two notices, simply indicate the availability of these documents," he said.

During his educational presentations, Schiff also discussed the impact of the Davis-Bacon Act on local governments and provided answers for questions common among officials dealing with act's provisions.

"With the advent of general revenue sharing, Davis-Bacon provisions concerning wage rates and record-keeping procedures for federally funded construction projects became the responsibility of 38,000 direct general revenue sharing recipients," explained Schiff. "These state and local governments entered into construction contracts themselves with general revenue sharing monies and had to deal with Davis-Bacon, in many cases, for the first time."

Highlighting the Municipal Association Conference were the addresses of Gov. Cliff Finch, Rep. Jim Simpson of the 45th District and Sen. Troy Watkins of the 25th District. Although all three speakers stressed the importance of municipal officials, Sen. Watkins said, "There is no greater force in the state of Mississippi than municipal officials. However, for this force to be felt in the legislature, a united effort is necessary."

Rep. Simpson also advised the officials that the key to their success in completing their proposals was their efforts with their home legislators.

Following the legislator's addresses, Mayor George Newman of Columbia, president of the Mississippi Municipal Association, announced the establishment of the W. J. Caraway Public Service Award in honor of Caraway's distinguished service as executive vice president of the association for 20 years.

"This scholarship will be awarded to a Mississippi State University senior or post-graduate student aspiring to a public service career in any discipline," explained Mayor Newman. "Applications and further information regarding this scholarship may be obtained from the Center for Governmental Technology, Mississippi State University."

Avenue just north of the L&N Railroad tracks.

No injuries were reported following the incident which also involved Officer Dennis Tartavouille of the Waveland police.

Police said Kenneth Bull, 22, of Long Beach refused medical attention after suffering a laceration of the nose when his car struck a tree.

Scene of the 8:10 p.m. accident was the corner of St. Joseph Street and Old Spanish Trail, police said.

Bull posted a $160 bond at the county jail after he was booked on charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving, police said.

Charges of indecent exposure and public drunk were lodged against Hartwell E. Gex Jr., 20, of Pass Christian following an incident on the Waveland police station driveway, police reported.

He was released from the county jail under $150 bond.

Others arrested Sunday in Waveland and the charges they face, according to the Waveland police department, include:

—James G. Haed about 5:25 p.m., driving while intoxicated, reckless driving and no driver's license. He was released under $335 bond.

—Van Adams, 60, of Bay St. Louis, arrested about 4:40 p.m., charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. He posted a $300 bond at the County jail.

—David W. Seals, Picayune, 19, charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving about 5:15 p.m.. He was released under $160 bond.

Waveland police reported answering several other complaints Sunday in which no arrests were made, ranging from minor traffic accidents to domestic squabbles.

Hearings for those arrested are scheduled for 7 p.m. tonight, Thursday, before Judge Lucien Gex of the Waveland City Court.

The parade will go south on Davis Ave., west on Scenic Drive and US-90, north on Church St., turn east on Second St., to the War Memorial Park where they will disband.

King Christian and Queen Christiana will go to St. Paul's School following the parade to participate in prize giving ceremonies.

Individual maskers between 2 and 12 will be judged at the gymnasium. Older maskers must participate in the parade to be judged.

costume, best couple, best costumed group.

The parade will have 10 krewe floats, with all masked riders, and will be followed by the Krewe of Hancock who have individual floats, organizational floats, marching groups, parade specialties, and horse riders.

The City of Waveland official viewing stand will be at Little Italy Restaurant, and the City of Bay St. Louis stand is to be located in front of Scaffidi's Wheel Inn.

Last year's viewing crowd was estimated by the krewe captain to be in excess of 20,000, and greater numbers are expected for this occasion.

The krewe itself stages a costumed ball on Mardi Gras night with all events finishing promptly at midnight.

Health and Safety Tip

From the American Medical Association

You need a family doctor before illness strikes. Tragedy can befall those who wait to get a physician "until he is needed."

The physician traditionally provides medical care to anyone in need. However, he has priority responsibilities to his own patients; unless you are among them he may not be able to serve you at a moment's notice. By having a physician before you are ill and by having periodic checkups, emergencies can often be anticipated and averted through preventive medical care.

How do you select a doctor for your family?

Start by calling your local medical society for the names of several physicians in your neighborhood or within convenient traveling distance. If there is no society office in your community, call your nearby hospital, ask friends for their recommendations, or check the pharmacist for his suggestion.

The American Medical Directory, published by the American Medical Association, is available in most public libraries and hospitals. This volume will give the age, professional education, state licensure, type of practice, teaching affiliation and medical organization membership for all physicians.

Is the prospective family doctor's office convenient for your family? What are his office hours? Do you prefer an older or younger physician? Will he make house calls? Do any of your family members have physical handicaps or disabilities which might require the care of a specialist?

Once you select your physician, call for an appointment for a physical examination. This will give the two of you the opportunity to get acquainted before you become ill. Does he impress you favorably? Are you "comfortable" with him or her? In discussing family health needs, keep in mind your budget. Ask the doctor about his fees; not all charge the same. He may not be able to give you an exact price for every kind of service but he can tell you approximately what his basic fees are.

For your own good—and the health of your family—why wait until illness strikes to choose a doctor? Select him now so he can have advance knowledge of your family's medical problem and give you the kind of protective care you expect from both a good doctor and a good friend.

Juveniles...

statistics on burglary and theft, with 57 percent of the 23 arrested for burglary being minors and 55 percent of the 11 theft charges being leveled against juveniles.

Trespassing charges reported against 11 persons include 18 percent juveniles in the statistical breakdown.

One charge of auto theft in 1977 involved a juvenile, and three youths were the subjects of vandalism arrests. Juveniles constituted six percent of the 16 persons arrested for disturbing the peace.

Juveniles also made up 13 percent of the eight persons charged with contempt of court.

Juveniles constituted 100 percent of the 17 charged under statutes necessarily limited to youthful offenders such as runaway and violation of curfew.

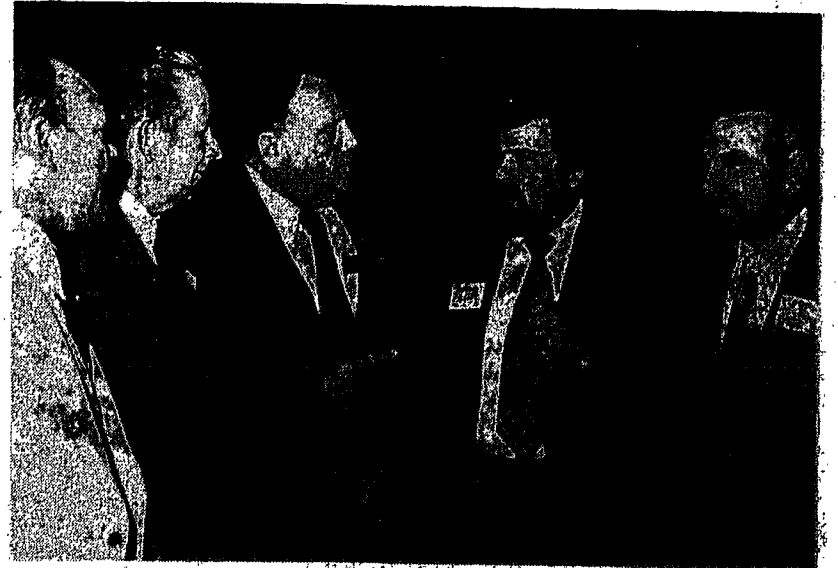

According to the report, other offenses and the number of adult violators arrested include assault and battery, 21; forgery, 4; soliciting without a permit, 3; aggravated assault, 2; false pretenses, 2; malicious mischief, 2; and indecent exposure, 2.

The department reported one arrest during the year on each of the following violations: receiving stolen property, possession of stolen property, embezzlement of a vehicle, and contributing to delinquency of a minor.

Dorn said the department recovered some 85 percent of property stolen in breaking and entering offenses during the year.

A total of 1,448 complaints were answered by the department's nine fulltime officers and 20 commissioned auxiliary policemen, the chief reported.

In addition, the Waveland Police Department presented six cases to the January, 1978, Hancock County Grand Jury which returned true bills in all six cases.

REVENUE SHARING was topic of seminar last month in Jackson. Event was attended by officials from cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, and County of Hancock. Principal speaker was Jeffrey Schiff, director, Advisory Center on General Revenue Sharing, Washington, who here is talking to Hancock County Chancery Clerk John Rutherford, Jr., who in turn is pointing to Schiff in emphasis of conversational point. Also participating from left, are: Jesse Greer, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service; Alton A. Kellar, president, Hancock County Board of Supervisors; Pete McGee, Hinds County chancery clerk.

Bay guard opens doors to recruits

Units of the Mississippi Army National Guard will attempt to gain 1000 new enlistments during the month of February, according to a joint statement released by Gov. Cliff Finch and State Adjutant General Glenn D. Walker. The new enlistments are needed, said Finch, to bring the state's authorized strength level back to 100 percent and to prevent loss of federal funds. Currently the state strength stands at 10,246 or 90.5 percent of authorization. The Bay St. Louis Armory will remain open weekends and until 8 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday nights to facilitate recruiting, ac-

Film presentation to tackle start of family life

A program entitled The Shared Beginning, is scheduled for 7.30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 10, at the Mississippi Power Company auditorium, Gulfport. Sponsored by La Leche League, the program will feature films on prepared childbirth and breastfeeding. Admission is free. "These films will provide an excellent opportunity for young couples to learn more about a shared birth experience where husband, wife, and newborn baby become a family from the moment a baby arrives," Caroline Triplett of the La Leche League said yesterday. Additional information about either the league or the film night is available at 864-6858.

cording to First Lieut. George S. Allison, commander of Det. 1, 135th Transportation Co. Allison said the Bay St. Louis unit needed to gain five new enlistments to reach its authorized strength of 72 men. The unit currently has training openings, he said, for operators and crewmen for the five ton amphibious lighters (LARC's) designed to shuttle light cargo to and from larger vessels. Training for amphibian operators lasts 13 weeks and is conducted at Fort Eustis, Va. Once completed, recruits return home to train with the Bay St. Louis unit one weekend a month and 15 days each summer.

Recruits with prior service may receive on-the-job training, said Allison in place of training at an active Army installation. Operation Roadrunner, as the state drive has been tabbed, hopes to attract both men and women 17-35 years old.

The National Guard was organized by the first American colonists on Oct. 7, 1636 as a militia unit of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. The bands of "Minutemen" fought at Lexington and Concord were part of this early organized militia - later named "National Guard" in honor of the Marquis de Lafayette and his Garde Nationale of the French Revolution. If you are interested in further information on the Army National Guard programs and benefits, you can contact Sgt. Cuevas or Sgt. Pavolini at the Armory in Bay St. Louis. The phone number is 467-4681.

Rocks, led by Corr & Vincent, crush St. John

Junior starters Kerry Corr and Charlie Vincent paced St. Stanislaus in a 69-40 victory over St. John, to give the Rocks' basketball team a 10-14 record, Tuesday night on St. John's home territory.

Corr and Vincent, recently named to the Pascagoula River Conference all-star team, sank 17 points each to lead the Rocks in the relatively easy win.

St. Stanislaus led by 10 points at the half, but St. John trimmed the margin to a scant three points in the third quarter.

"We broke it open in the third period," commented Bob Cuccaro, coach of the Rockchaws. "Kerry Corr and Charlie Vincent hit a scoring streak, and we were ahead by 14 at one point."

"The Eagles started a heavy press in the last quarter, trying to control the ball."

St. Stanislaus racked up 19 points in the final set, while shutting out the Eagles for only eight points.

Corr and Vincent, with their 17 points, led the Rocks in scoring. Kirt Cuevas of St. John also netted 17 points supported by 12 points from Ricky Rester.

Coach at USM speaks out on Gulf tourney

The 32 team high school basketball tournament, tentatively planned for school Christmas holidays, 1978, has this week received the endorsement of Coach J. Larry Ladner, associate professor of athletic administration and coaching at the University of Southern Mississippi.

"I urge the players, coaches, administrators, civic and business organizations to enthusiastically support the development of this tournament," said Ladner, graduate of Kiln.

The tournament will give many local athletes an opportunity to compete against some of the outstanding basketball players from other areas of the nation, according to the former Picayune high school basketball coach.

Extensive media coverage would focus attention on Mississippi basketball players and teams, Ladner continued, and a tournament of this type would attract numerous college scouts from around the country, providing our players additional attention.

"The tournament would provide a tremendous impetus for the progression of basketball on a local, regional, and state level."

"We now have the opportunity to join hands in support of a meaningful and rewarding experience for our student athletes," he concluded.

JAZZ TRIM R.C. KINGS
The New Orleans Jazz took its seventh straight NBA win, to match their own longest winning streak record set last March, over the Kansas City Kings, 134-117, Friday night in the Superdome. "Pistol" Pete Maravich set the pace for the Jazz with 31 points. Leonard Robinson contributed 25, and Jimmy McMillen sank 28 for New Orleans. The Jazz were helped by three straight technical fouls called against the opposing team in the last minutes of the game.

Boy Scouts honor Saucier, reelected to man '78 helm

Sustaining membership plaques were awarded to Cub Packs 225, 345, 212, Troops 615, 346, 364, and Post 621.

Saucier was again chosen to lead the district through 1978. Highlight of the banquet was the presentation of two district awards of merit. These were granted to Ed Friloux, cub scout chairman and institutional representative, and Evelyn Richey, district committee. Friloux pack is 212, and Richey is of 343.

Master of Ceremonies for the banquet was Ken Saucier, aided by Jean Laroux, banquet chairman; John Rutherford, chef.

'Daydreams' is theme of St. Ann's carnival ball

By VIRGINIA THOMAS

St. Ann's Carnival Association chose "Daydreams" as the theme for their 4th Annual Ball, Friday, in the Parish Hall.

The glittering pageant unfolded against a backdrop of nursery rhyme and fairy tale characters depicting childhood daydreams. Two carved throne chairs were centered on the stage under a graceful golden crown canopy.

Reigning as the 1978-king and queen were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Mauffray.

The queen, escorted by the grand marshal, Richard Toribio, made a glamorous picture in an empire gown of shimmering silver shine. Her royal floor-length mantle of white net ruffling featured a motif of silver stars trimmed in ermine. Long white gloves, a bejeweled tiara, and sceptre completed her ensemble.

The king was attired in white tails with a ruffled shirt. His mantle was of white peau de soie edged with gold sequins featuring a motif of red velvet petals embellished with gold sequins and rinestones. He also wore a traditional crown of red velvet and gold sequins, and a sceptre matching the queen's.

Maids to the queen, each depicting a figure of their daydreams were: Mrs. Leonard Morgan, a genie; Mrs. William Osbourne, a young buccaneer; Mrs. Joycelyn Marzoni, a maid from Milan; Mrs. Mike Strong, an elephant; Mrs. Jerry Cole, a pirate; Mrs. Lee Williams, a lady of Siam; and Miss Beth Ann Garcia, Cleopatra.

Dukes to the king were: Donald Mauffray, William Osbourne, Merlin Massicot, Howard Parker, Jerry Cole, Lee Williamson, and John Duchkar.

Captain of the ball, Mrs. Gloria Moran, representing the Dream Maker, was gowned in a heavenly blue costume edged with white fur.

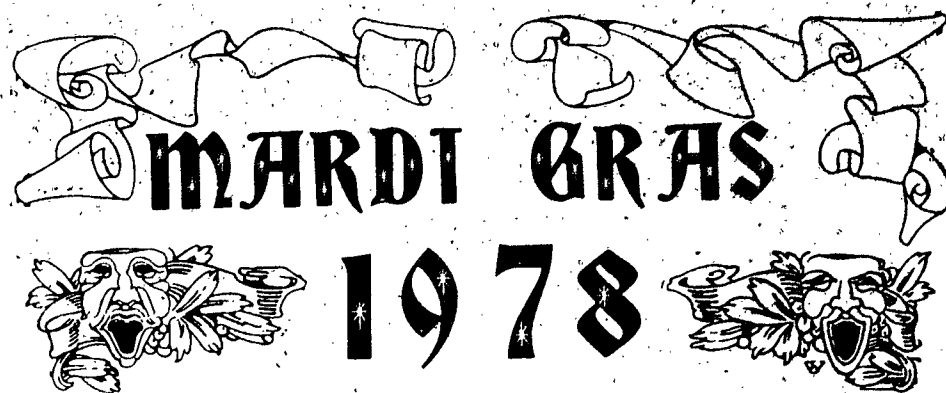

Monroe James, narrator, introduced the 1977 queen, Mrs. Muriel Gilbert Blanchette, radiant in a two piece gold quianna gown and silver jeweled tiara. Mrs. Blanchette was escorted by James Blanchette.

Their majesties and the royal court were then entertained by students of Piccola's School of Dance. Sleepytime gal was portrayed by Cindy Ladner, and baby dolls Michele Moran and June McMann.

Following this sparkling spectacle, Krewe members danced to music by Mrs. Mildred Means while tossing throws to those in attendance.

General dancing followed the court's dance and prizes were awarded for the best costumes. First place winner for a couple were, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rupp, bagpipers. First place winner for an individual was Mrs. Honorine Hughes, Spanish dancer.

Other committee chairmen were: Mrs. A. M. Thomas, President, Mrs. Alvin Ladner, Treasurer; Mrs. Lee Hote and Mrs. Mabel Brown, Membership, Mrs. Monroe James and Mrs. John Everard, Decorations; Mrs. Vivian Moffet, Assistant to Royalty, and Alvin Ladner, Sr., Refreshments. Music for dancing was provided by Bo & Dee.

Walking is a means to health

Back when I grew up 75 to 85 years ago, everybody walked everywhere they went within reasonable distance. Today, almost everyone gets in the car to go even a short distance.

It is generally agreed that walking is the most important exercise a person can take. The walking motion tends to pump the blood to all parts of the body and thus assists the heart in its work. Today heart trouble is the biggest killer of human beings while 75 years ago there was almost no heart trouble.

I never knew of but one to die of what they called a heart attack when I was growing up, and he was greatly overweight. Today walking is prescribed by many doctors as a remedy for heart trouble.

At 87 years of age, I am a great believer in the value of walking. I make it a rule to walk at least one and a half miles every day except Sunday, and often as much as up to two and a half miles. I attribute my walking to the fact that I am now in excellent health.

All my life I have walked almost daily, often several miles a day. For years, I walked the one mile from my home to business regularly, often trotting early in the morning when there were no people on the streets in order to get exercise that I felt I needed.

I often walk about 1800 ft. down the street and then back to my place of business. When I first started this walking, I would walk briskly down the street, then turn and walk briskly back with no stops anywhere going or coming back. A friend of mine laughingly told me, that a man who had seen me walking down the street said, "What's the matter with that old man? He comes walking fast as if he is going somewhere in a hurry, then turns around quickly and goes back as if he has forgotten something. He does that every day. He must be some kind of a nut."

After my friend told me this, not wanting people to find out I was a nut, I started going into a nearby restaurant drinking about a half cup of coffee. I found that I attracted no curious attention when I went to the restaurant and drank the coffee, which I did not care much about.

When I grew up out in the country in Jasper County, we all walked within reasonable distances, say up to two or three miles. Back then we never thought of saddling or harnessing a horse, our only means of transportation, to go reasonable distance while now most people get in the car even to go around the block or few hundred feet away. In fact, most of us have forgotten how to walk properly. Many medical researchers believe that this lack of walking is why we have so many hospitals, and so many medical specialists and why health care costs have risen astronomically.

Someone said, "Systematic daily walking is the most simple and natural form of exercise. It puts one in close contact with the earth." In summer, I like to get barefoot and walk in the green grass around the back of my home. I have found this to be an exhilarating experience. It makes me feel a close relation to nature.

While most remedies to attain good health cost money, walking is free, no doctor necessary, no prescription to the drug store. Maybe because it is free, that is the reason so many people don't exercise properly. Maybe if it cost a few dollars each time, it would be more appreciated.

I don't believe one can do anything else that will help so much as walking. Walk a mile a day, better two miles or more. I believe drug bills and doctor bills and hospital bills can be greatly reduced. If you walk reasonable.

You don't have time? Then your life is too hectic. I believe it is better to leave off other things, if time is a question, and walk a reasonable distance every day.

Back 75 years ago, we had never heard of diseases that are now common. I believe that people were healthier back then because they lived, generally speaking, a more active physical life.

I knew a man to walk 18 miles and carry his suitcase to go to teach a school that distance from his home. He had a horse that he could have ridden but he had no place at his school to keep one and then too, it was too expensive to have to feed a horse with the horse doing no work.

Someone has said, "Walking contributes to peace of mind and general good health. The heart, lungs, large muscles, arteries, veins and many important organs are stimulated and toned. Circulation is also stirred up and increased. The mere physical act of walking relaxes the mind and you may have noticed that walking outdoors helps to dispel gloom and depression."

I met an old friend recently. I asked him, "How are you getting along?"

"Fine," he replied. "By way of explanation, he said, 'I am making good money walking.'"

He said, "Since my doctor prescribed walking for me, I am in much better health. I am spending much less on doctor bills and drug bills and nothing at all on hospital bills."

Back in the old days if one wanted to say something slurringly about a man, he might have said, "He's so lazy that he rides everywhere he goes."

Not long ago, pedestrians found sidewalks most everywhere on which to walk, but today the pedestrian has become a second class citizen.

In many places there are places for motor vehicles of all kinds, but no sidewalks for the man who walks.

I believe that we should have more attention paid to the many people who walk in our city.

THOUGHT FOR DAY

A thought for the day from the library of Father Canisius Hayes, pastor St. Ann's Parish:

"You and I cannot determine what other men shall say, and think about us. We can only determine what they ought to think of us and say about us."

Military Mention

Marine Lance Corporal Houston J. Dorr, son of Mona Morgan of 407 Rosehart Drive, Pass Christian, recently visited Sasebo, Japan.

He is serving as a member of the Marine Detachment aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Oklahoma City, operating from Yokosuka, Japan. The Oklahoma City is the flagship of the commander of the U.S. Seventh Fleet and serves a dual role as a "goodwill ambassador" and a combat ready fleet unit.

He and his fellow Marines visited Sasebo during a four-day port call and hosted thousands of visitors on board. In addition to touring local points of interest, the Marines participated in a variety of sporting events with local teams. The routine visit was made in conjunction with the Fleet's mission of maintaining American presence in the Western Pacific.

The Oklahoma City is 610 feet long and carries a crew of approximately 1,200 officers and enlisted men, in addition to more than 200 personnel of the Seventh Fleet staff. She is outfitted with guns, surface-to-air missiles and a helicopter landing platform.

A 1976 graduate of Pass Christian High School, he joined the Marine Corps in August 1976.

No other vegetable tops Florida sweet corn in popularity on the American dinner table.

While more sweet corn is eaten "on-the-cob," don't overlook fresh corn as an ingredient. In recipes like this corn pudding, the fresh kernels are incomparable for flavor and snapping crisp texture.

SUSIE'S CORN PUDDING
4 ears fresh Florida corn
2 eggs
3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper
2/3 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Remove husks and silks from corn; cut kernels from cobs (makes about 2-2/3 cups). In a medium bowl, lightly beat eggs. Stir in corn and remaining ingredients. Pour into a greased 1-quart casserole. Stand in a larger pan. Pour hot water into larger pan to come half way up the sides of the casserole. The d'Iberville Warriors, playing on their home court, held the lead from the first quarter, 16-8, on the strength of 6'9" Danny Dunlap's shooting. Bay High managed to net 17 points in the last period, but the game had already been put away by d'Iberville who held a 15 point lead at the half.

Dunlap was high scorer for the game with 31 points. Reggie Collier contributed 30 for the Warriors.

Mike Thompson, one of Bay High's consistently high scorers, led with 25 points for the Tigers followed by 10 from Buster Bailey.

Pass Christian opened against Vancleave with a 21-20 lead, but faded in the second quarter. Vancleave stepped out front with seven points at the half, then slowly widened the lead with 22 and 23 points in the last two periods.

Vancleave and Pass Christian scored 39 and 33 field goals respectively, but foul shots made the difference with Pass Christian racking up 20 fouls as a team, giving the Bulldogs 11 points from the line.

For the Pirates, 5'10" guard Cullen Swanier led scoring with 15 field goals and a free shot for 31 points. John Whittmann, although handicapped by four fouls, contributed 25 points. Virgil Swanier fouled out of the Dailey of Bay High, Cullen Swanier and John Whittman of Pass Christian, and Kerry Corr and Charles Vincent of St. Stanislaus, were named to the boys all-tournament team. For d'Iberville, Reggie Collier, Mike Neizgoda, Lonnie Fritz, and Danny Dunlap, were all-tournament choices. Others named were: Ben Wells, Jesse Wells, and Pete Batson of Vancleave; Kirk Cuevas of St. John; Albert Wells of East Central; Neil Broussard of Notre Dame, and Keith Medley of St. Martin.

game with 13 points, and Mackie Dedeaux also fouled out.

Pete Bason sank 25 points for the Bulldogs, followed by Ben Wells with 23.

Hancock Boxers prepare for championships, set final touches on March of Dimes Benefit

The Hancock County Boxing Club (HCBC) will be among six Mississippi Coast teams sponsoring the 1978 National Boxing tournament, April 18-22 in the Gulf Coast Coliseum.

Representing the Hancock group on the multi-club team will be Mike Shields in the 165 lb. class, Mike Stringer in the 118, Joe Pavolini in the 105 and Andy Schoenmaker in the 139. Approximately five hundred and eighty fighters from clubs all over the country will compete in the national bouts. The twelve winners will have a place on the United States boxing team which will fight in the World Games in Yugoslavia the following week.

"This is one of the biggest things to happen in AAU boxing on the Gulf Coast," commented Harvey Mitchell, HCBC coach.

HCBC has 30 to 34 regular members, and has been active with the AAU for eight years. Several of the boxers, including Joe Pavolini and Mike Stringer, have been with the group since it was first formed.

"It doesn't cost these boys a dime to participate in the club," Mitchell explained. "We take care of insurance and AAU registration fees."

Over nine hundred spectators came to the club's show held Jan. 21 and 22 in the National Guard Armory in Bay St. Louis. The boys competed against teams from Alabama, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

"We only hold two or three local shows each year," Mitchell said, "because AAU rules require a physician ringside in all inter-club competition, and it is difficult to find a doctor who will give up his time for the matches. But our club travels to meet all over Mississippi and Louisiana."

The club travels to Saucier on Saturday for a show, before turning toward the spring championships.

The South Mississippi Golden Gloves competition will be held in Hattiesburg late in February, and from there Hancock will head to Cleveland, for the State Championships in the last week of the month.

"We had hoped to present another show in the Armory before we went on the road for the championships, but plans for that have not been finalized," Mitchell added.

Currently, the club is finishing plans for a benefit match to be held March 11 in the armory for the Hancock County March of Dimes. Poster child for the event will be Miss Terry Waltman, and all proceeds will go to the M.D. in her name.

"We have some good boxers, including seven-year-old Bruce Robinson who won the award for most outstanding fighter at show last year."

"At 60 pounds, Bruce has been boxing for three years and has won the most fights from our club."

Pass girls scuttle Bay, anchor in second place

The Pass Christian Lady Pirates allowed D'Iberville to slip by, 54-52, in the finals of the Pascagoula River Conference basketball championship. Pass Christian took second rank after defeating Bay High in the semi-finals, 57-35.

The Lady Pirates took a one point lead to open in the game, 11-10, and held on to their slim margin throughout the first half, 28-25, at the break. The Warriorettes held the Pass girls to 8 points in the third period to snatch a four point lead. Pass came back to out-score D'Iberville, 16 to 14 in the final quarter, but the Warriorettes stayed out-front by two to win the title bout.

Sherry Winterstein was game-high scorer, netting 20 points for the Warriorettes, 10 of those from the foul line.

For the Lady Pirates, Theresa Cannon racked up 12 points, despite an injured ankle which she sprained in a confrontation with St. Martin on Wednesday. Robin Roberts and June Ward contributed 10 points each.

Winterstein was named the tournament's most valuable player in girls' competition, and Daphne Easterling of St. John received girls' coach of the year honors.

Those named as girls' All-Tournament were Robin Roberts, Polly Necaie and Theresa Cannon of Pass High; Charlene Haynes and Karen Fricke of Bay High; Helen Ball, Robin Fountain, Wanda Beverin and Winterstein of D'Iberville; Juliette Lindsey and Tracy Houston of St.

John; Kay Carter and Charlene Griffin of East Central; Myrna Keen of Vancleave, and Muriel Seymour of St. Martin.

The Lady Pirates rolled over Bay High 57-35 in the semi-finals Friday night to reach the finals slot against D'Iberville. Pass held the Bay High girls to less than 10 points in each of the first three periods, while steadily widening a three point first quarter lead to 16 points by the end of the third. Roberts, with 23 points, and Cannon, with 16, again lead the attack for Pass Christian. All-Tournament player Karen Fricke headed up the Tigerettes with 18.

KITCHEN RIPEN FLORIDA TOMATOES

Winter tomatoes from Florida fields, kitchen ripened to shiny redness, add beauty and appetite appeal to any dinner plate. Buy them three or four days before use and let them red-ripen in the warmth of the kitchen. If, after that, you must refrigerate them, do let them sit at kitchen temperature for an hour or so immediately before serving.

While a simple slice or wedge of tart-sweet tomato is a pleasing garnish, there are simple salads which add even more to the menu.

For instance, arrange thick slices of fresh Florida tomatoes, green pepper strips and cucumber slices on a lettuce-lined platter. Spoon herbed Italian salad dressing over the vegetables, and sprinkle with minced scallions or green onions.

Or cut kitchen-ripened tomatoes into wedges and arrange around the edge of a serving platter. Fill the center with thinly sliced cucumber and onion. Blend to a smooth dressing 1/2 cup crumbled blue cheese, 1/2 cup dairy sour cream, 1/4 cup oil, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt and ground black pepper. Zucchini slices or broccoli buds may be used in place of cucumber, if preferred.

Appointments, dividends announced by Merchants

Richard Matheny of Merchants Bank and Trust Company has been named executive vice president of that institution. W.R. Allison, chief executive officer, made the appointment known this week.

A second personnel change, this announced by Guy C. Billups, Jr., chairman of the board, involves the hiring of Robert B. Strickland of Hattiesburg as auditor.

Billups also announced that stockholders of the company, as of Dec. 15, '77, will receive a quarterly dividend of .25 cents per share. This, Billups revealed, is in addition to the separate .15 cents per share dividend check voted by the board.

The latest dividend payments mean that stockholders of record have received a total of $1.15 per share for the entire year of 1977.

Judy McCormick elected to lead library friends

The Friends of the City-County Memorial Library this week elected Judy McCormick as president.

Others named to serve for 1978 were: Virginia Thomas, vice president; Judy Wheeler, secretary; Visla Cunningham, treasurer; Lyn Nybo, membership chairman; Effie McCulloch, publicity chairman.

Program for the evening was presented by Mrs. Emily deMontluzin who delivered a slide presentation on her trip last summer to England.

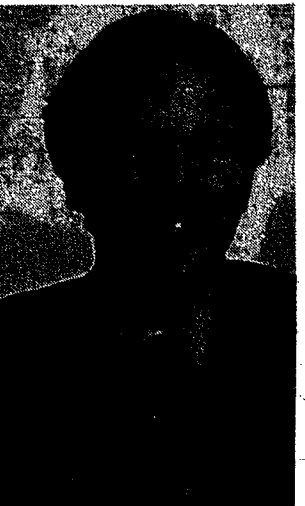

A membership meeting has been set for 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 1, at the library.

Public is invited to become a "friend." Membership dues are $2 per year.

Information is available from Mrs. McCormick, 467-6315, or Mrs. Nybo, 467-7019.

RICHARD MATHENY

ROBERT B. STRICKLAND

"What better way to enter the bank's 75th Anniversary than by declaring an additional dividend?" Billups said.

A native of Collins, Matheny began his banking career in 1956, following a period with the FBI in Washington.

He joined Merchants as a cashier in 1966, being promoted to vice president and cashier some two years later.

Presently manager of the downtown Gulfport office, he is past president of the Gulf Coast Chapter, American Institute of Banking. Married to the former Dorothy Easterling of Mt. Olive, he and his wife have one child, a daughter, Linda Marlene.

Residents of Gulfport the family is a member of the Pass Road Baptist Church wherein he is a deacon.

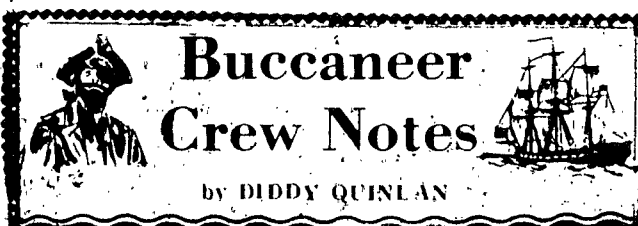

Strickland is a graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi, Federal Reserve Computer School, the Federal Reserve Senior Examiners School, and the Federal Reserve Trust School. Having spent over nine years with the department of bank supervision, he was most recently associated with the First Citizens National Bank of Tupelo and has a total of 16 years experience in the industry.

Pernicario child celebrates first birthday at home

Gina Angela Pernicario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nuncy Joseph Pernicario of DeMontluzin Ave., Bay St. Louis, celebrated her first birthday, Jan. 30 at her home.

Attending the gala party were: her grandmother, Mrs. Bernadine Pernicario; aunt, Linda Kay Pernicario; uncle, Martin Pernicario; Mrs. Micki Pernicario and son, Michael; Mrs. Ellie Pernicario and son, Charlie; Mrs. Margaret Moran and son, Wayne; Miss Shelli Jeanfreau, Miss Bunni Jeanfreau, and their nephew, Bradley Lenfant, all of Lakeshore; Miss Dianne Tenny of Waveland; uncle, Jimmy Pernicario, and her mother, Mrs. Lorna Pernicario.

Her Aunt Linda and Uncle Martin assisted in the opening of gifts. An additional party was held by her grandfather, Grant J. Bultman at his home in Jefferson, La.

A very big congratulatory note goes to the Krewe of Nereids from the crew at Buccaneer Park. Most of our campers attended the parade and every one I talked with had nothing but praise. At Buccaneer we are happy and proud to publicize such local events to our visitors.

This weekend at the park we will conduct two craft sessions - one making Mardi Gras floats from shoe boxes, and another making valentine cards. We also sponsor ping-pong and foosball contests as well as a card playing session. The activities are planned to provide opportunities for fun for our campers and local residents, as well as to create opportunities for socialization.

Future activities for the month of February include shuffleboard, tennis, beach and nature walks, scavenger hunt, arts and crafts, backgammon, mural painting, a movie, and a chess tournament. These activities will be conducted on Saturdays and Sundays throughout February.

In addition to these, we also will continue our flower arranging class on Fridays, our ladies' exercise class on Mondays and Tuesdays, and our basketball class on Wednesdays. New members are welcomed at all times. A phone call to Buccaneer Park (467-3822) before the class will assure a new member of pertinent information for each class.

Beginning in June, regularly scheduled sessions will include exercise classes, card games, arts and crafts, campfire, programs, bird-feeding, story hour, and movies. These will be offered on a weekly basis.

However, before the summer begins, an interesting new program will start. Every Saturday beginning April 1, a special session entitled "Games of the World" will be conducted at 2 p.m. Everyone is invited. Each week we will learn new games - from many different countries - how it is played, some of its history, as well as how to make the game at home.

This is an introduction into culture we may otherwise never view. The games are simple, fun, and entertaining. Furthermore they are easy to make for children and adults at home. Considering the high level of boredom today in so many people, isn't this an interesting new leisure pursuit? Come on out and give it a try!

Title 1 sponsors reading workshop

MISS MARY ANN BAIRD

The Title I Project of

Reading Workshop, featuring Miss Mary Ann Baird, the ways to improve any reading program are:

Plan for systematic management of a wide range of instructional levels;

Continue quality inservice

By FRED HORN CARNIVAL DAY

The Carnival season in Hancock County opened with the Krewe of Nereids parade in Waveland. It was a perfect day for the occasion. Yours truly along with many other Senior Citizens who were participants in the parade, were hailed along the way by many other Seniors joining with thousands along the route shouting the traditional "Throw me something Mister," and believe me, everyone did just that - and we all have sore arms to prove it.

The new Joppa Shrine Temple in Gulfport, of which I am very proud to say I am a member as well as many of our Hancock County citizens, was well represented with the Oriental Band, Mini-bikes, Mini-flivvers, Big-Bikes, Caravan, and the Clowns, as always were glad to be a part of the Krewe of Nereids' Parade, as we have been since the existence of their Carnival Parades in Waveland.

All units that took part in the parade are to be congratulated for a job well done, all the citizens of Waveland for their hospitality, and most of all the Krewe of Nereids, for their hard work, great planning, expense, and for making us all one in spirit - young again, with the greatest free show ever. I hope all the Seniors that were out Sunday will all bring a Senior friend who did not get to the parade to the next one on Mardi-Gras Day, Tuesday, Feb. 7th. It will be another great day for our community, another great free show, one put on by the Krewe of Triton.

BEAUTIFUL HAWAII

Aloha, Senior Citizens, a Hawaiian Show, just for you, Gulfview Haven Nursing Home, on Beach Blvd., Bay St. Louis, 2 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 11. The Show will be sponsored by the Gulf View Haven Nursing Home, Hancock County Senior Citizens' Multi-purpose Center, and Project Do. All Seniors (60 years and over) citizens of Hancock County are invited to attend the show. There is no admission charge. Entertainment will be furnished by the International Duo of Gerry and Lani, who will offer their time and talents to present a program of Hawaiian Songs and Dances. They are currently appearing at the Hawaii East Restaurant in Gulfport.

Lani was born in Oahu, Hawaii, and was educated in the Philippines. She has made several motion pictures namely, Girls! Girls! Girls! Blue Hawaii, with Elvis Presley, Diamond Head, Donavon's Reef, and Hawaiian Eye.

Gerry and Lani have worked as a duo for 16 years, appearing in Las Vegas, Miami, Chicago, Los Angeles, and Disneyland. Gerry accompanies Lani both vocally and on the guitar.

While we are on the subject of Hawaii, there isn't much time left for the Seniors who would like to take a trip to Hawaii. To register in time to take advantage of this opportunity, contact Jim Hoda at 467-9292, immediately. The cut-off date is Feb. 28th.

BAV ST. LOUIS

The Senior Citizens Club will hold a Bake Sale on Saturday, Feb. 4, from 9 a.m. until all cakes are sold. The sale will take place in front of the Food Center and A&P Stores.

Monday, Feb. 6 from 10 a.m. till 2 p.m., the Senior Citizens from Hancock, Harrison, and Jackson counties will hold their Annual Mardi-Gras Ball at Gulf Park College, in Long Beach. Each Center will select a king and queen to participate in the grand promenade when the judges will pick a king and queen to represent the tri-county area.

Entertainment from Hancock County will be, Piccolas' School of the Dance, our versatile pianist Louis Burghard, with yours truly on the drums, who will also do several specialties.
